

Big Business Calls Upon FDR To Clarify Position on N.R.A. Currency and Budget Balancing

SENATOR BORAH WOULD BROADEN LEAGUE SCOPE

Important Undertaking Idaho Senator Declares

Genesee, Idaho, Sept. 24.—(AP)—As-erting "this move to preserve liberty is an important undertaking, Senator William E. Borah tonight said the American Liberty League "is not too early in the field," but suggested it include "economic freedom" in its platform.

It was the first comment Borah has made on the league whose formation was announced several weeks ago with the asserted purpose of protecting certain constitutional rights it presumed to be endangered.

"I would suggest that the Liberty League broaden the scope of its crusade," Borah said in a speech in this farming community. "Reading its platform I discover that something has been inadvertently omitted. I do not find anything there which would insure economic freedom."

Human Rights Vanish

"This move to preserve liberty is an important undertaking," he continued. "With at least 80 per cent of the human family, human rights have utterly vanished. With these liberty is dead. In some countries liberty is denounced by the government. The league, therefore, is not too early in the field."

Borah again turned his fire on monopoly, a fire he has directed in a half dozen speeches in Southern Idaho in keeping with the intention he announced in Washington after protesting suspensions of the anti-trust act under the national recovery act.

"What is liberty in this twentieth century?" he said, "the power to fix the price of things. I must have in order that I may live and not die is my master, and the fact I may enjoy free speech and read a free press, does not assuage the cruelty of that fact nor ameliorate my servitude in any degree whatever. The power which closes the door of opportunity to me in the business world leaves me cold to all their panegyrics about liberty."

"The monopoly which crushes my small business, as is now being done in thousands of cases, and sends my family to the bread line, takes away all my enthusiasm over the right of trial by jury. The power to exploit the weaker and the more unfortunate in the economic world brings more misery to men, women and children than the denial of the right to peaceably assemble and pass resolutions. There is no liberty worthy of the name without economic freedom and social justice."

"There is a power in this country, and now operating under the sanction of government, which visits daily every home in this land, presses down upon the inmates and takes in the way of arbitrary prices what it wills to take. The power to fix prices is the power to destroy not only business but human rights. Is the league interested in this problem?"

DIES AT DANVILLE

Danville, Ill., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Charles Current, immediate past president of the Illinois Exchange Clubs, died suddenly of embolism here yesterday. He was a fingerprint expert and conducted a private detective agency for years.

PLANE CARRYING LINDBERGH EAST IS FORCED DOWN

Famous Flyer And His Wife Somewhere In East Missouri

St. Louis, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Secluded from all but their most intimate friends, Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, en route to New York to aid in the renewed investigation of the kidnaping and death of their first son, tonight were resting somewhere in Eastern Missouri.

No official report of their landing had been made, but Major Phil O. Love, intimate friend of the Colonel, said the Lindberghs had communicated with him by telephone and had supplied their location. They instructed, however, that the information be kept in confidence.

All airports in the St. Louis vicinity and the larger fields throughout Missouri denied knowledge of the whereabouts of the couple. Mechanics here worked through the night to have the Lindbergh's private airplane ready for an early morning takeoff. The plane has been here about two weeks undergoing repairs.

REPUBLICANS PLAN CHANGE IN TACTICS

Party Leaders Hold Two-Day Session In Chicago

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Republican party leaders faced with the job of winning back the west in November went into a two-day session today out of which it was rumored would come a sharp change in tactics—a new set of political plays.

The meeting was strictly a closed one. National Chairman Henry P. Fletcher headed it and it brought together most of the members of the national committee's executive committee in the middle west and the far west.

Fletcher, in a four minute interview while walking out of the Union Station, said briefly that nothing in the primaries had shaken his confidence. As for Maine's heavy Democratic vote, he said:

"Governor Brown was a good candidate. He told the voters about getting all this new deal money. He didn't defend the new deal; he milked it."

Along with discussing campaign finances, the Republican strategists were matching reports about the effectiveness of various issues as campaign ammunition.

The points on which they agreed were that attacks on the administration's farm measures were politically advisable; that attacks on the president were not; and that criticism of relief administration will be more popular than attacks on the cost of relief.

VICTIM OF FIEND

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 24.—(AP)—A laboratory test of bloodstains found on a roadway last Thursday strengthened police opinion today that the missing 6-year-old Dorothy Distelhurst was the victim of a fiend.

The stains were found near the point where Dorothy last was seen at 1:15 p. m. Wednesday enroute home from school.

Dr. William Litterer, director of the state public health laboratories, said it was "entirely possible they were made last Wednesday," and "at any rate they are not more than a week old."

The bloodstains formed the focal point of an investigation which still has "no definite clues." Searches of a five-mile area about the home have proven fruitless.

EXONERATE PATROLMAN

Marion, Ill., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Patrolman Bert Ellis was exonerated by a coroner's jury today in connection with the death of Frank Lowe, who died this morning in a Herrin, Ill. hospital of an abdominal wound received Saturday night as he stood by while the officer shot at two men whom he sought to arrest.

Indictments for assault to commit murder will be sought against the pair, John Manfredo and Jesse Nicholson, of Herrin.

INJURES ANKLE

Daniel Aut of St. Louis injured his ankle Sunday afternoon while playing baseball at the Kiwanis Hut. Mr. Aut accompanied by his wife were attending the National Fraternal society of the Deaf picnic which was held at the Kiwanis Hut.

Mr. Aut was taken to Passavant Hospital where he received medical treatment.

ACCEPTS OFFICE

San Diego, Calif., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover has accepted an invitation to become an honorary vice-president of the California Pacific International Exposition planned for next year in San Diego. Frank J. Belcher, exposition head, announced the former president's acceptance today.

"Jafsie" Jubilant Over Coup

Dr. John F. Condon, the Lindbergh intermediary known as "Jafsie," was jubilant when, pictured at left, he discussed with a detective the prospect of clearing up the sensational case. He delivered the ransom to the supposed kidnapers, and since has viewed hundreds of suspects in an effort to identify them.

MORRO CASTLE CAPTAIN FEARED RADIO OFFICER

Told Chief Assistant Something Was Going To Happen

By B. L. Livingstone, Associated Press Staff Writer

New York, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Less than 24 hours before the fire destroyed the liner Morro Castle with the loss of 132 lives, Captain Robert R. Willmot voiced the fear that the liner's assistant radio officer, George I. Alagna, would throw acid in his face, it was testified today.

This fear was so real, Chief Officer William F. Warrms testified before the federal inquiry board today, that he kept the door of his cabin locked.

Warrms, called to testify a second time to the events surrounding the disaster, declared the master was in "real fear" of Alagna, and only a few hours before he died Friday night expressed a premonition of disaster.

"Something is going to happen," Warrms quoted the captain as saying. That evening Willmot was dead, and barely eight hours later his command was a charnel ship.

Had Acid

"The captain told me after we left Havana to keep an eye on that fellow Alagna—he has two bottles of sulphuric acid," Warrms said.

"Do you know I keep my door locked?" Willmot added, according to the chief officer.

"I was afraid," Warrms told the board, "he would throw acid in the captain's face and I asked him to let me iron Alagna, but the captain said not to."

That night I told the night watchman: 'For God's sake watch him. He's liable to start something. The captain worried.'"

After Warrms and Alagna, together with a dozen others, were taken off the coast guard cutter, Warrms testified, "Alagna went around saying 'I'll get the officers now, and I'll fix the Ward line so it won't come back.'"

George W. Rogers, the chief radio officer, later corroborated in part Warrms' testimony regarding the "acid."

Rogers testified that in Havana another operator came aboard and suggested methods of "getting even" with the Ward line, mentioning some "liquids."

"Later," Rogers testified, "I found two quart bottles of something that smelled like a 'stink bomb' on the top of the radio room locker. I threw them overboard."

Warrms told the board his steering gear broke and then his engine room telegraph let go. The ship was helpless.

"I was trying to steer her with the engines," Warrms related.

His gear let go about 3:12 a. m., he said, and at 3:18 ordered Alagna to send out the "SOS."

"Did you agree with Alagna to send out the 'SOS' or did you instruct him to send it out?" asked Dickerson N. Hoover, assistant director of the Bureau of Navigation.

"I instructed him to send it out," Warrms replied. "I was master."

"When did you give abandon ship?" "After the 'SOS' was sent out."

PACKERS WILL INCREASE PAY OF EMPLOYEES

Officials Claim Raise Will Add Millions To Payrolls

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Wage increases which will add millions annually to pay rolls were announced today by four large meat packing firms.

The increases, averaging about eight percent and affecting hourly wage employees in the firms' plants throughout the nation, were announced by Swift & Company, Wilson & Company, Cudahy Packing Co. and Armour & Company. All increases will be effective October 1.

Minimum hourly wages for unskilled labor will be higher than in 1929 in the Chicago area, officials of the four firms said.

More than 100,000 employees will be affected. Officials of the larger firms said they believed their move would be followed by most of the smaller firms.

In each of the cases the firms announced that the movement for higher wage rates had originated in requests by employees made through plant employee representative groups. Swift & Co. said the increase resulted from such requests, "together with other reasons, chief among which was the mounting cost of living."

A Wilson & Co. spokesman said that two 10 percent wage reductions had been made since 1929. However, a 17 percent increase was granted in August, 1933, and a 10 percent increase last December 1. The packers said that because of changed conditions particularly because of codes, they could not say if all cuts were restored.

LEGION WOULD TAKE PROFITS 'OUT OF WAR'

Ex-Service Men's Plan Is Applauded By Senator Nye

By Max Boyd, Associated Press Staff Writer

Washington, Sept. 24.—(AP)—An American Legion plan to take the profits out of war was applauded today by chairman Nye of the Senate munitions committee.

Nye told newsmen that the only trouble with the ex-service men's suggestion was that it didn't go far enough.

John Thomas Taylor, Legion legislative representative here, predicted the National Legion Convention at Miami next month would advocate stiff penalties for war-time profiteers and a universal draft law. He said commodity and labor prices should be "frozen" in event of war at an average of the prices prevailing for three years previously; and that the government should take away 95 percent of any abnormal profits.

Welcoming these views, Nye nevertheless differed with the Legion leader on government control of munition-making.

"The private munitions manufacturer must be destroyed or be regulated more closely than any other private business," the Senate investigator declared, making it clear he strongly favored government monopoly of the production of essential munitions of war.

"The government can't do that," Taylor contended in an interview.

Repercussions of the Senate munitions inquiry extended also today to Peru. Dispatches said that government had instructed its Ambassador here to make a diplomatic protest to the United States and institute libel proceedings against a former employee of the Curtis-Wright Aircraft company. The protest involved a claim in his testimony that Peru purchased British airplanes costing more than American planes.

HARRY PIERPONT HOLDS NO MALICE

Columbus, O., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Harry Pierpont, 32-year-old condemned Dillinger gangster, held no malice today against Ohio penitentiary guards who frustrated the attempt of Pierpont and Charles Makley to escape from the prison "deathrow."

"If I'd been in their place, I would have done the same thing the guards did," said Pierpont as he lay on the cot recovering from bullet wounds received in the escape attempt Saturday.

He was testifying before a coroner's inquest into the fatal shooting of Makley, coroner E. E. Smith, before returning a formal verdict, expressed the opinion, "the shooting was justified."

Smith, conducting the inquest at the scene of the shooting in "death row," said Pierpont refused to furnish any details of the escape plot or to divulge who modeled from soap the counterfeit weapons he and Makley used.

Bruno R. Hauptmann Will be Charged With Kidnaping and Murder of Lindbergh Child

By Francis A. Jamieson (Copyright, 1934, By The Associated Press)

New York, Sept. 24.—The murder and kidnaping of Baby Charles Lindbergh will be charged against Bruno Richard Hauptmann, New Jersey official said today, as a Bronx county grand jury considered an indictment charging the alien with extorting $50,000 ransom fruitlessly paid by the noted flier for his son's return.

As the two states rushed their efforts to bring Hauptmann to trial, his attorney, James M. Pawcett, declared he had information which, if true, would "split the case wide open." He did not give any details.

Attorney General David T. Wilentz of New Jersey said the extradition proceedings against Hauptmann probably will not be started until next week.

When asked what charges will be preferred in the state which has jurisdiction over the abduction and death of the baby, Wilentz turned to Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of the state police. They conferred a minute. Then, Schwarzkopf said:

"Kidnaping and murder."

Hurries Case

District Attorney Samuel Foley of the Bronx hurried his case before the grand jury, calling nine witnesses at the first day's session.

Among these was Dr. John F. Condon—the "Jafsie" who paid over the $50,000 ransom as Lindbergh's intermediary.

"We presented the case," Foley said, "as completely as we could but it is not yet coordinated and can not be until we hear the testimony of important witnesses, including Colonel Henry Breckenridge (the Lindbergh attorney) and Colonel Lindbergh."

With his wife, Lindbergh was speeding by plane back to New York to lend all possible aid. They landed near Amarillo, Texas, refueled their plane and continued east.

Breckenridge, campaigning for United States senator upstate, telephoned Foley from Rochester. He would come to New York at once.

Building up his case of extortion against Hauptmann, Foley laid this evidence before the grand jurors:

The testimony of Dr. Condon that he paid the money over; his partial identification of Hauptmann as the recipient.

The identification by John Perrone, the taxicab driver who says Hauptmann gave him a dollar to deliver a note to Condon's home—one of the ransom notes.

The testimony of Walter Lyle and John Lyons, filling station attendants who identified Hauptmann as the man who paid for gasoline with one of the ransom bills.

Declaring that he expected an indictment by Wednesday, Foley said several witnesses had identified Hauptmann in connection with the extortion case.

This was taken to mean Lyle, Lyons and Perrone had made the identification in the grand jury room, inasmuch as no new identifications in the case were announced.

An impetus to the search for accomplices of Hauptmann was given with the disclosure in Washington that department of justice agents were seeking to prove that Isadore Fisch—Hauptmann's friend who went to Germany and died suddenly—was present in a Bronx cemetery the night "Jafsie" paid the ransom.

The evidence in the possession of the federal agents, it was known, strongly hinted at such a possibility.

The delay in filing extradition proceedings against Hauptmann by Jersey officials was explained in a statement by Wilentz and Schwarzkopf. It read:

"Because of the grand jury investigation in Bronx county, by District Attorney Foley, and for other reasons, it is not likely that these proceedings will be prosecuted this week."

What the "other reasons" are, they would not say. But the Jersey officials are preparing their case painstakingly to leave no loopholes.

District Attorney Foley, informed of the Jersey decision, said: "If the New Jersey authorities have sufficient evidence against Hauptmann on a murder charge, we won't hesitate a moment to turn him over to them for trial."

Fawcett would not disclose the nature of his information.

"I have some startling information which is now undergoing thorough investigation," the attorney said. "Should this information be true, I assure you it will split the case wide open."

"It may be a matter of weeks but my investigators have been and still are quietly at work in this matter. At this time, I am unable to give further information. I can say it is usually quiet before the storm."

There were reports, unconfirmed, that Colonel Lindbergh on his way east might set down at Columbus, Ohio, to confront George Paulin, the convict who said he received a letter late in 1931 from Hauptmann disclosing a plan to abduct the Lindbergh baby.

The convict's statement received further corroboration today from Miss Amanda Thomas, daughter of Warden Preston Thomas and mail censor at the prison.

PLEADS GUILTY

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Carlton Turner, 26, didn't believe in signs. He pleaded guilty to stealing three guns from a "crime doesn't pay" exhibit at the World's Fair. Judge Matthew D. Hartigan gave him thirty days in the house of correction.

FEDERAL AGENTS SILENTLY CHASE NEW LINDY CLUE

Believe Isadore Fisch In Cemetery When Ransom Paid

By Richard Rendell, Associated Press Staff Writer.

Washington, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Justice department agents sought to prove tonight that the late Isadore Fisch, tubercular German, was present in St. Raymond's cemetery, the Bronx, when the $50,000 Lindbergh ransom double-cross was consummated.

Evident hitting at such a possibility was known to be in the hands of federal investigators.

The story was confirmed in official quarters that on the night of April 2, 1932, a man with his face masked by a handkerchief, passed within a few feet of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh as he waited outside the cemetery for Dr. J. L. Condon, "Jafsie," to hand over the ransom money.

When Lindbergh reaches New York to appear before the Bronx county grand jury Wednesday a picture of Fisch will be shown him for an effort at identification.

The father of the kidnaped infant long ago told officers that a man, obviously a masked lookout, peered into his automobile near the cemetery, and then ran to a near-by intersection where he dropped his handkerchief.

This apparently was a signal for the ransom negotiator to withdraw. Shortly thereafter both the masked accomplice and the individual who talked with Dr. Condon disappeared in the shadows.

Fisch, who died of tuberculosis in Germany months ago, was first mentioned in connection with the crime by Bruno Richard Hauptmann as the man who had given him some of the ransom money found at his home.

Justice department officials today reported that Fisch definitely had not written the ransom notes. His handwriting was discovered to be very dissimilar to that found on the communications.

The same quarters considered that this wove the net of circumstances even closer about Hauptmann, whose writing corresponded closely to that on the notes.

Fisch was described by the department as being "virtually penniless" and forced into "sleeping on park benches in New York" before he sailed back to Germany to die. Immediately it was added, however, that this apparent lack of funds did not "by any means" remove him from the picture.

Justice officials are expecting further word from Germany, where officers of the New York police department, originally assigned to the Podagry case in Vienna, have been conducting a search for information on the background of Fisch. The department is in possession of a photograph of Fisch which was taken originally for his passport.

It is this photograph that will be shown to Lindbergh when he reaches New York.

Other clues which were withheld were being analyzed by department experts, who pointed to the possibility that the accomplice might not have been either Hauptmann or Fisch.

Some data on Fisch already gathered by federal agents shows that he was born at Leipzig, Germany, July 26, 1895. He emigrated to the United States from Benhaaved, Germany, arriving in New York City on the S. S. George Washington, December 22, 1925.

Fisch stated in his passport application that he wished to enter the United States to visit his cousin, Max Liebling (at 806 North Court street) Rockford, Ill. He executed his petition for citizenship in May, 1931, giving as his address 532 East 157th street, New York City, and said he was a furrier. He received his citizenship in the United States on August 26, 1931.

"It has been further ascertained," the department said, "that in the spring of 1933 Fisch was virtually penniless and was sleeping on park benches in New York City. Shortly thereafter Fisch returned to Germany where he died and an examination of records pertaining to a bank account maintained by Fisch in New York City indicated that his circumstances were comparatively modest during his stay in New York City."

Three things were made doubly clear today at justice headquarters: Federal investigators are unshaken in their opinion that Hauptmann remains a "key man" in the case;

Strong evidence exists that at least two men were involved, but with some doubt appearing that a woman took part;

Twenty-four hour activity has been ordered to clear up new clues so that Colonel Lindbergh himself can help build up or throw down this evidence.

Attorney General Cummings plans to be in New York Wednesday, when Colonel Lindbergh is scheduled to appear before the Bronx county grand jury. Thus far no definite plans have been made for the attorney general to meet the colonel, but the two probably will confer.

Next Day It Snowed

We are just closing a most torrid summer, and it appears we are already entering a rather unusual winter. Snow has visited the northwest section of the country, coming down out of Canada, where the blizzard interrupted threshing and the beet harvest. If the Canadian householder sits down to breakfast some day this winter and finds frost on his pancakes and icicles in his sugar, he'll know the reason.

But we are not so much interested in Canadian weather, until it projects itself across the border. We were that way about the world war—not much interested until the boys from the home town took the train for camp. But now that Canadian weather has blown over the line, we can discuss it.

A foot of snow fell in some sections of the states of Oregon, Montana and California. It covered Prospect Peak in Lassen National Park, but as no body was up there, there is no complaint. But when it snowed at Lake Tahoe, that was different. People are in the habit of vacationing there, and snow is not conducive to their pleasure. The snow will hasten the closing of the place for the winter.

We are hoping the snow does not reach this far south. It would be too bad to spoil our Indian summer season. And anyhow we have little fodder to shock and few pumpkins to frost. There is really no reason for snow in these parts just now, except to furnish a topic for conversation.

Shot in Shanghai

The international port of Shanghai brings forth another mystery. This time it is the shooting of an American woman, Miss Ruth Driscoll of Seattle, Wash. The woman was found in a Shanghai street shot thru the forehead. The woman is said to have visited the oriental city several times in recent years. She previously resided in Cairo, Egypt.

She is probably one of those cosmopolitan characters about whom the fictionists like to write. No doubt she has a story stranger than fiction, a story which may involve international secrets. The spy system of the nations that do not trust one another is most complex, and all sorts of people carry on its multitude of activities.

In spite of its trend toward modernity, the orient still holds plenty of fascination for those who have not visited it. Any event such as the shooting of an American woman in Shanghai, catches the popular fancy. While the east might not appeal to a sophisticated traveler who cares more for comfortable club rooms and excellent liquor than for strange temples, fakirs, mandarins and rajahs in their native haunts, it can still grip the imagination of those whose tastes are not so exquisite. We would like to know more of this case.

Are We Domesticated

The question as to whether man is a domesticated animal has been propounded. The answer is no, because there is no superior animal to domesticate him. It might be a good thing for man if he were compelled to eat out of the hand of some superior being. All the taming he has received thus far has been self-administered, gained thru the school of hard experience, thru trial and error.

In speaking of man in this way we of course, include woman. The female of the species is said to be deadlier than the male, and can therefore be no more domesticated than the male. It is true that women exercise a powerful taming effect on men at home, but the latter find the club a safe refuge.

Altho man himself is not domesticated, as his orgies of crime, war and mass action will readily prove, he prides himself on having domesticated some of the lower animals. But this is only his own opinion. Were the animals consulted, they might feel differently about it. They might consider their domestic life as an improvement over natural conditions, in which they do not have to hunt for a living and are provided with comfortable quarters.

That is the way man looks on what little civilization he has attained. It is for him primarily a means of creature comfort, by which he gratifies his love of material things, luxury, pleasure, ambition and power. If man is ever domesticated, it will have to be by some superior race which in its turn may not be domesticated.

VIEWS OF THE PRESS

CAUSE AND EFFECT

Gus Desch, the old Notre Dame and Olympic track star, says this actually happened at the institution made famous by the late Knute Rockne.

"A professor of physiology had just completed a lecture on the senses and members of the class were asking questions," said Gus. "Finally a youth in the rear of the class asked the prof. just why a girl always closed her eyes when she kissed a man."

"The professor thought for a moment, looked the youth over and asked, 'Were you the subject?'"

"The lad nodded yes and the professor replied:

"Well, I can easily see why," Philadelphia Record.

STILL A SOCIALIST

Grace Church Doings

The school orchestra was back in their place to the delight of the school. Mahlon Gammer reported briefly upon the Young People's Conference recently held in Evanston. Homer Wood sang a very impressive solo. School attendance was 438 and offering $12.31.

At the morning service the chorus added interest to the service with their singing. Dr. Havighurst used as a sermon theme "The Joy and Value of Worship."

The Epworth League services were held at 6:30. Miss Emma Holle was the leader of the high school group and Miss Miriam Havighurst led the college age section.

In the evening service Homer Wood led an inspiring preliminary service. Margaret Ellington, Winona Coking and Mrs. S. G. Baker sang a trio. The pastor's sermon topic, "They Saw No Man, Save Jesus Only." Prayer service on Wednesday evening will begin the study of the Epistle to the Romans, under the leadership of the pastor.

Next Sunday will be Rally day in the church school.

The New Deal in Washington

BY WILLIS THORNTON

Journal and Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington—When is an American citizen not an American citizen? When he's and Hawaiian, and especially when he's an Hawaiian sugar producer, says the latter.

And that's the crux of the sugar producers' case which is going to be taken to a District of Columbia court soon in an effort to get the Jones-Costigan sugar equalization act declared unconstitutional.

That's the act by which the last congress set the amount of sugar to be grown and refined in this country and gave the AAA power to set quotas for Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

The Hawaiians are sore—they say they are Americans on precisely the same basis as if the Territory of Hawaii were on the North American continent that the sugar act and AAA regulations under it have denied and impaired Hawaiian rights in a way not applying to other citizens of the United States, and that Hawaii has been treated like a foreign country in apportioning her quota of sugar to be sent to the United States. They contend the AAA's apportionment was not only unfair and unkind, but unlawful.

Thus the sugar question, which produces more and bitter lobbying per pound of sugar produced than almost any other of the perennial trade questions that bedevil congress, now brings up the whole question of the political relationship between the Hawaiian Island and the United States, as well as a primary legal test of the AAA and the New Deal in general. The attorney-general's office and the AAA are collaborating in an elaborate and careful defense of the whole proposition, for the decision may affect far more important things than sugar quotas.

New Deal Justice

Speaking of judicial decisions on the New Deal, a situation is arising in Washington which is almost comic. Some of the ultra-conservative lawyers of the capital are shivering in their boots at the thought of forthcoming supreme court decisions this winter. They consider that the court shows every sign of actually having read the newspapers during the last few years, and they expect a surprisingly liberal tone in its decisions.

One such lawyer, discussing a pending case with a colleague, shrugged and said, "I know, and you know, that we have the law on our side—but I don't feel sure any more which side the supreme court is on!"

Same Old Problem

The perennial clash of interests between city workman and farmer is being heightened by the present tariff negotiations. While Secretary Wallace is "letting the farmers vote" on crop reduction and selling them a billion dollars' worth of manufactured imports to balance outgoing farm products, the American Federation of Labor is putting in an almost daily kick against any such thing.

Matthew Woll, A. F. of L. vice president, is making frequent speeches against letting down the tariff bars for "foreign products of child and sweat-labor." Woll's American Wage Earners' Protective Conference, high tariff organization of union leaders, is campaigning actively against any and all proposals to increase imports at the expense of the American working man. This organization is the labor end of the "Buy-American" movement which brought out a protest from Secretary Hull recently.

Still They Come

Though the magnificent new limestone-and-marble public buildings of the new Washington rise on every hand, the need for more space for the expanding personnel is shown by the fact that dozens of the old temporary buildings, slapped up during the war-time emergency sixteen years ago and never intended to be permanent, are still in use.

The overwhelming Archives Building rising on Pennsylvania Avenue is being enlarged three and a half million dollars' worth even before it's finished.

A recent compilation by the United States News showed that the government is now using 14,000,000 square feet of office space in Washington alone—enough to make six and a half Empire State buildings.

And at that, it's renting 2,000,000 square feet. . . . The Treasury is sending out warnings of a counterfeited $100 bill. Better look closely at that last $100 bill you received.

Advertising men, who shuddered when Rex Tugwell deprecated the advertising game during discussion of his proposed Food and Drug bill last year, may take heart from Donald Richberg. He recently told a group of advertising men that "at its worst, it (advertising) helps to energize human beings into action, and activates production and exchange, whereby workers are employed and property is used."

BEREA REVIVAL ENDS WITH 12 ADDITIONS

Berea—Rev. L. P. Nebelung of Loami closed a very successful two weeks meeting here Sunday. He had great interest shown throughout the time and much benefit was derived by all. Rev. Teah of Ashland was present and assisted him much of the time.

A reception is being planned for the twelve new members of the church on Friday evening, September 28th at 6:30 o'clock. All members and friends of the church are expected to be present.

Mrs. H. Beltschmidt and daughter were callers in Jacksonville Saturday. Nelle Robinson spent last week at her brother, George's home in Nortonville.

George E. Hinn, who is a patient in Springfield, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lewis were Jacksonville callers Friday.

Mrs. Ida E. Rayborn and daughter spent Sunday at the home of H. W. Beltschmidt.

Mary and Doug Together--But Still Far Apart

For the first time since their break, Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks consented to pose together—but not very close together—for this picture. The occasion was strictly business, a directors' meeting of their film producing concern in Hollywood. Just to take away the reconciliation idea, Joseph M. Schenck, president of the company, sits between them at the directors' table.

Mrs. Leta Hayes of Bluffs Passes Away

Bluffs—Mrs. Leta Hayes, 42, passed away at her home at 9:45 p. m., Saturday after an illness of several weeks. She is survived by her husband, O. S. Hayes, one son, Albert and one daughter, Helen, both at home, her mother, Mrs. S. A. Harding of Clayton, Ill., one sister, Mrs. Della McCoy of Springfield, one brother, Ernest Harding of Minneapolis, Minn.

Hatfield Funeral
Funeral services for Raymond C. Hatfield, 38, were held from the Naples M. E. church at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Rev. Baldrige officiated.

Casket bearers were: Harvey Bartholmeew, Lyle Bates, Horace Arnold, Merton Pond, William Chambers and William Binge. The flowers were cared for by Mrs. Beulah Ritter, Mrs. Alice Bartholmeew, Mrs. Everett Moore and Misses Glenn and Doris Green.

Songs were sung by Miss Helen Seavoy, Mrs. Frances Brackett and Stanley Baumgartner with Mrs. Merton Pond as accompanist.

The decedent is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hatfield, his wife, Margaret; three children, Mary, Charles and Morris, all of Naples, and one sister, Mrs. Cecil Benge of Detroit, Mich.

Interment was made in Naples cemetery.

Seckman Death Accidental

Coroner W. E. Coulas of Winchester, conducted an inquest here at 9 a. m. Saturday, to determine the cause of C. F. Seckman, Washash employee, whose body was found in the railroad yards here Friday morning.

Testimony was given by Clyde Williams, who found the body; Martin Seckman, son of the deceased; George Wendt and H. R. Vannier, members of the train crew with whom Seckman rode from Clayton to Mercedola.

The jury composed of Lyle Bates, Albert Benz, James Monte, Herman Six, P. H. Vannier and Oscar Giesop returned a verdict of "Accidental death due to being struck by a train."

Mr. and Mrs. William Brooks of Jacksonville visited their niece, Mrs. Ella Lowe Saturday afternoon.

Squire Arundel who is employed in Springfield was visiting his mother, Mrs. Anna Arundel Friday.

Dr. H. W. Sears of Springfield was a professional caller in town Saturday morning.

Mrs. F. C. Davis of Springfield visited over the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Finney.

Miss Ruth Six of Jacksonville spent Saturday night and Sunday with relatives here.

Harland Lankford and Bob Bingham were Hannibal visitors Friday.

An estimate places the number of dogs in the world at 70,000,000.

CLOSEUP and COMEDY

by DAN THOMAS — GEORGE SCARBO

WILL ROGERS says:

To the Editor of The Journal-Courier:

S. S. De France—You know the American business man or traveler from home is a queer duck all over Europe, and a couple of days ago on the boat, "I tell you I am afraid of things at home it don't look good to me." Well for the last couple of days the market has picked up and the news said the strikers went back to work. Now they are returning around the boat grinning like a possum. Imagine people who's whole idea of our country is gained from what it does every day in a stock market.

Yours, WILL ROGERS

Greene Luttrell is Buried Here Sunday

Services in memory of Greene M. Luttrell, veteran theater owner of this city, were conducted at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Reynolds Chapel. Rev. Glenn Schillerstrom of the State Street Presbyterian church officiated. Interment being made in Diamond Grove cemetery.

Members of the Elks lodge, with which Mr. Luttrell was affiliated for many years, attended the services and sat in a group.

A solo, "The City Four Square" was sung by Mrs. Helen Brown Read. Mrs. Ralph Hutchinson was at the pipe organ.

The floral tributes were cared for by Mrs. E. E. Farrell, Miss Betty Lane, Miss Dorothy Farrell and Mrs. Fred Main.

Casket bearers were F. E. Farrell, William H. Franz, Clifton Davis, Cass Hamm, A. M. Masters, J. G. Reynolds, Daniel T. Cloud and Fred W. Brockhouse.

APPROVE OILING OF NEW ROAD IN COUNTY

Springfield, Ill.—The Division of Highways today approved a Morgan county contract for construction of 1.43 miles of 18-foot oiled earth highway near Jacksonville by the Illinois Road Builders of Jacksonville for $793.44.

The work referred to above has been completed for two weeks. William Casler, county highway superintendent, said Monday. It consisted of oiling a new road which was constructed to improve travel to the county home.

The road is a fill across a hollow and gives more convenient access to the home from the hard road. The money used for oiling the road comes from the county's share of the motor fuel tax.

G.O.P. to Rally at Rees Tuesday Night

Republican candidates and party leaders will attend the annual fox and con hood meet at Rees Grove Tuesday evening. This is to be a Republican night, and speakers will have an hour on the program from 7 to 8 o'clock. Music will be furnished by the Woods brothers' quartet.

The principal speaker will be Senator Earl B. Searcy. Representatives Hugh Green and William Lawler, Hon. Warren E. Wright and the county candidates will also appear on the program. County Chairman Harry Strawn will preside and introduce the candidates.

The Republican delegation from this city will go early and have supper on the grounds.

State Street Church is Recipient of Flag

During the morning services Sunday at State Street Presbyterian church, a beautiful silk flag was unveiled and presented the church. It is the gift of Miss Elsie Traube. The presentation talk was made by Mrs. Lillian Danksin. Four Boy Scouts, members of Troop Two, unveiled the flag and gave the salute.

Sunday was rally day in the State Street Sunday School. The goal set was 250. All classes made their quotas, and the total attendance was 275. The college age class was revived, with a large attendance. The class is taught by Prof. W. F. Bailey of MacMurray College.

At the Christian Endeavor Sunday evening the students were much in evidence. There was an interesting program and plans were made for the work of the coming year.

Funk Family Holds Enjoyable Reunion

A most enjoyable reunion of the descendants of Esau Funk of Exeter, Scott county, was held in Washington Park at Springfield on Sunday, Sept. 23.

Esau Funk and Dicy Hassler were married in Roan county, Tenn., on Oct. 4, 1831 and accompanied by his brother, Jacob and wife who was her sister, Millie Hassler, who were married a short time before, emigrated by covered wagon to Illinois and settled near the Maudslatter creek near Exeter where the family were reared. Seven of the nine children lived to rear families, being Lewis, who married Mary Lampman; Mary, wife of T. H. B. Black; Martha, wife of George Bean; Frances, wife of Samuel Campbell; Henry, who married Mary Davis; turned who married Armintha Wallace; Clark who married Ada Holliday.

All except one family was represented at the reunion. H. E. Funk and wife, of Waverly; Yuba Funk, Jacksonville, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Strawn, Jacksonville, all children of Lewis; Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Buchanan, Exeter; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marshall and sons, Ellsworth and Robert, of Markham; Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Black, son, Kenneth; daughter, Betty, of Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. C. Cain and children, Springfield; Mrs. Alice Funk Riggston, who are descendants of Benton and Mary Black; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bean, of Springfield, son of Martha and George Bean; Mrs. V. Carothers, Champaign; Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Finck, of Decatur, grandchildren of Fannie Campbell; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Funk and son and Mr. and Mrs. A. Barrett, of Millersville, children of Henry Funk; Mrs. Ada Funk of Chapin; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Ross, son and daughter, of Jacksonville, wife and daughter of Clark Funk.

Besides members of the family they had several guests, among them being Mrs. Margaret Heaton and daughter, Mrs. Harris, of Lynville; Mrs. O. Neil and Miss Nona Ellis of Farmer City, who are descendants of Nimrod Funk, the eldest brother of Esau, they being sons of Samuel Funk, over whose grave in the Gillham cemetery, Scott county, a marker of the War of 1812 was placed some years ago.

Several short talks were given and Mrs. Heaton, now 83 years of age told some family history and in her talk mentioned that her grandparents bought the first cook stove ever used here and people from miles around came to see the stove.

Mrs. Ada Funk was made general chairman of the next reunion which will be held the second Sunday in September, 1935.

Meeting of Morgan-Scott Baptists at Literberry Oct. 2nd

The twenty-ninth annual meeting of the Morgan-Scott County Baptist Association will be held Tuesday, Oct. 2, at the Baptist church in Literberry. One of the most important matters to be considered is abandonment of the association which was organized when it was necessary for the churches to act in more compact groups. With the coming of hard roads, larger groupings are possible.

The program has been shortened to one day and includes morning, afternoon, and evening sessions. Ladies of the church will serve luncheon at noon and a banquet for young people in the evening.

The program follows:

9:30 Devotional—Rev. Shelly Robinson.

10:00 Association convenes.

Words of welcome by pastor—Rev. William Boston.

Response by moderator—Rev. F. V. Wright.

10:15. Business session. Appointment of committees. Reading of church letters.

FINE MATERIAL FOR CLUB PROGRAM USE

Local chairmen of the Federation of Women's clubs have received from the head of the state committee on international relations, Mrs. H. A. Harding, a list of study suggestions, which are available for clubs at headquarters, 30 West Washington street.

The list includes: Club programs—Outlines for meetings: (a) "Peace as Based on the Bible"; (b) "Peace as Taught by World Religions"; (c) book reviews suggested: "The Testament of Youth" by Vera Britons, "The Cross of Peace" by Gibbs, "America Must Choose" by Secretary Wallace, "Intelligent Man's Review of Europe Today" by Alfred Knoff.

Thomas E. Jewsbury Summoned by Death

Thomas E. Jewsbury, a lifetime resident of Morgan county, passed away Sunday evening at 7:45 o'clock at his home one mile south of Literberry, after an illness of several months.

Mr. Jewsbury was born near Literberry Aug. 3, 1867, a son of Richard and Sarah Jackson Jewsbury. His entire life was spent in that community where he was held in highest esteem by neighbors and friends. He was a member of the Grace M. E. church at Jacksonville.

Surviving are four sisters and one brother: Mrs. Fanny G. Sayre, Jacksonville; Mary C. Henry C. Tirzah I. and Amanda Jewsbury, at home. There are several nieces and nephews.

Services will be held at the Williams Funeral Home Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in charge of Dr. Freeman A. Havighurst, pastor of Grace church. Interment will be made in Arcadia cemetery.

The remains are now at the family residence.

SMOKE IN SHOP

The fire truck made a run at 1:50 o'clock Monday afternoon to the Taylor Barber Shop on North Main street, where an oil stove had flared up and filled the room with smoke. There was no damage.

FRATERNAL SOCIETY OF DEAF HAS PICNIC

Jacksonville Division No. 88, National Fraternal Society of the Deaf, staged its fourth annual picnic at Boy Scouts' park, Sunday, Sept. 23. About 150 were in attendance, many of them coming from St. Louis, Springfield, Decatur and other points.

Outdoor games were indulged in, prizes going to the successful contestants. The National Fraternal Society of the Deaf is an insurance company organized and controlled exclusively by the deaf with divisions located in all the principal cities of the country. Headquarters are in Chicago and the company is incorporated under the laws of the state of Illinois.

Miss Louise Lewis is Complimented at Tea

The Misses Enid Hubbs and Margaret Corrington were hostesses Sunday afternoon at a delightful tea given in honor of Miss Louise Lewis at the home of Miss Corrington, 138 Pine street.

From the hours of four to six guests were served at the attractively decorated tea table which was adorned in pastel shades. Pastel tapers and center bouquet of pastel flowers were used. Tiny cup cakes and mints in pastel also carried the color scheme.

Presiding at the tea table throughout the afternoon was Mrs. D. L. Clarke of New Berlin. Assisting in the dining room were the Misses Elizabeth Capps and Virginia Wiswell.

The tea was given in honor of Miss Louise Lewis, whose marriage to Mr. Richard Duncan of Chicago will occur next month.

Mrs. F. J. Andrews Hostess to College Hill Club

The first meeting of the College Hill club was held on Monday afternoon with Mrs. F. J. Andrews as hostess, at the Colonial Inn. The general topic for study during the year is Italy and the program presented the subject: "The Italian People, Their Origin, Life and Customs."

At the close of the afternoon, a social hour was enjoyed with the hostess.

Bricks Fly When Car Hits Building

Losing control of his Chevrolet sedan when it skidded on the West State street car tracks Monday morning, Albert McGinnis narrowly escaped injury when the machine jumped over the curb and crashed into the side of the Reynolds Mortuary, West State and Prairie streets. The front of the sedan knocked a large section of bricks from the foundation.

After skidding and going over the curb the car narrowly missed a fire hydrant and large tree before it struck the building.

McGinnis, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo McGinnis, was only shaken up by the collision. The front of the car was considerably damaged.

McGinnis was headed east on State street at the time of the accident. He said the front wheels caught for an instant in the tracks and the slippery pavement caused him to lose control.

Charles W. Busey's Death Occurs Here Monday at Hospital

Charles W. Busey, well known Jacksonville resident, for twenty-two years an employee of J. Capps & Sons, died at 5:19 o'clock Monday morning at Passavant hospital, following a brief illness.

Mr. Busey was born in this city May 3, 1875, a son of Rev. Samuel E. and Mary E. Ealey Busey. He was united in marriage with Angie Short in this city Sept. 4, 1928.

Mr. Busey was baptized by Rev. Coffman at Roodhouse and had been an active member of the Baptist church for thirty-six years. He was a man of fine Christian qualities, and was highly regarded by all who knew him. He was a member of the Men's Bible class of the First Baptist church.

Surviving are his wife; two sisters Mrs. Charles Waltrip of Arkansas City, Kas., and Mrs. Mollie Ballou of Jacksonville. His parents, one brother and two sisters preceded him in death.

The remains were prepared for burial at the Arthur G. Cody Funeral Home, and at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning will be removed to the home of Mrs. Sadie Brown, sister of Mrs. Busey, at 867 Case avenue.

Funeral services will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Cody Funeral Home, in charge of Dr. M. L. Pontius. Interment will be made in the Roodhouse cemetery.

19 Year Old Girl Passes Away Here

Margaret Frances White, 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George White residing two miles southeast of Alexander, died Sunday night at Our Saviour's hospital.

The young woman had a severe cold and was thought to be developing pneumonia. She was removed to the hospital Sunday afternoon, death occurring at 11:45 Sunday night.

Surviving are her parents and the following brothers and sisters: Joseph, Marie, George, Frances, Agnes, John, and Robert White.

The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at the Church of the Visitation at Alexander. Rev. Father O'Grady officiating. Interment will be made in the Franklin cemetery. The remains were prepared for burial at the O'Donnell and Reavy parlors and taken to the residence.

Club Gives Support to Leases for Oil

White Hall—The Citizens Community club met at the Walton House on North Main street with twenty men present and the president, Stanley Thomas presiding. A business meeting was held following the serving of dinner.

G. K. Murray who has been here for several months buying up oil leases presented the problem which is confronting him in completing his work. He has secured all but three leases in the block on which he has been working, and these are located in the center of his block. He asked the co-operation of the club in securing these leases and it was voted to lend him the moral support of the club and Dr. F. N. McLaren, R. L. Davis and O. L. Raines are appointed as a committee to assist Mr. Murray. Mr. Murray stated that his company was ready to bring their machinery and start drilling for oil as soon as the leases were secured.

Lyndel Rose then entertained the club with some moving pictures which he had taken of the World's Fair in Chicago, also a reel of pictures taken by Fred Vermillion of Houston, Texas, of the White Hall Centennial three years ago. E. J. Lukeman of the Lukeman-McCollister Ford Motor Company also showed some moving pictures of the Ford exhibit at the World's Fair.

Uses Auto Crank to Drive Thieves from His Machine

Surprising two strange men in his automobile, Jerry Flynn of Rural Route 4 engaged in a hand-to-hand battle with the pair Sunday night when they showed fight. The men, who are believed to have been trying to steal or strip it, used a bottle and piece of iron as weapons, while Flynn swung an automobile crank effectively.

Flynn left his car parked on the north side of the square early in the evening and when he returned to it found it occupied. The men showed ugly dispositions and hurled a bottle at the owner. He then grabbed a crank and went into action. One of the pair struck at Flynn with a piece of iron several times but he escaped injury.

When the battle grew too warm the strangers jumped from the car and

WHEN YOU'RE TOO TIRED TO GO ON...

MISS GEORGIA ENGELHARD has scaled 90 major peaks, 38 in one season. Slender, but a marvel of endurance and energy, she says: "When people tell me of being tired out, or lacking 'pep,' I don't know of better advice to give than you'll find in the suggestion 'Get a lift with a Camel.'"

Get a
with a Camel!

YOU'LL ENJOY this thrilling response in your flow of energy!

ANY TOBACCO MAN WILL TELL YOU:

"Camels are made from finer, more expensive tobaccos—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand."

In light of the recent scientific confirmation of the "energizing effect" in Camels, note what Miss Engelhard, champion woman mountain climber, says:

"Mountain climbing is great sport, but don't try it unless you have plenty of energy. Many times up there above the timber line, within a short climb of the goal, I have thought 'I can't go another step.' Then I call a halt and smoke a Camel. A Camel lifts me up in just a few minutes and gives me the energy to push on to the mountain top!"

People in every walk of life have found that Camels increase their energy. Perhaps you have observed this among your own circle of friends.

You'll like Camel's matchless blend of costlier tobaccos. Mild—but never flat or "sweetish"—never tiresome in taste. You'll feel like smoking more, so go ahead! For with Camels, you will find that steady smoking does not jangle the nerves.

SALESMAN E. W. Davis says: "I'll say this for Camel's costlier tobaccos—they taste better! And when I'm tired a Camel revives my energy!"

MOTOR-BOAT RACER, Florence Burnham says: "For a long time I have been a Camel fan. Camels, being so much milder, never disturb my nerves. I smoke them all I want."

Camel's Costlier Tobaccos never get on your Nerves!

Cardinals Trounce Cubs 3 to 1 and Continue Their Furious Drive to Overtake N.Y. Giants

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The flag-federated St. Louis Cardinals continued their furious stretch drive in pursuit of the league leading Giants today, beating down the Chicago Cubs 3 to 1 to reduce the world champions' margin to two games.

While the Giants marked time through an open day, lefty Bill Walker, one-time member of the New York hurling staff, collaborated with Pepper Martin and Leo Durocher in fashioning the Cardinals' eighth victory in their last nine games. The victory was Walker's eleventh of the season.

He allowed seven hits, walked only one, and fanned seven including Babe Herman, the Cubs' left-handed clean-up hitter, three times.

Martin and Durocher played their part by driving in the runs off Lou Warneke, seeking his 22nd victory of the season, and Bill Lee. Durocher opened the third inning with a looping blow over second base and stretched the hit into a double when Kiki Cuyler was slow in returning the ball to the infield.

The peppery little St. Louis shortstop moved to third on Walker's sacrifice but it was not necessary as Martin came through with a home run into the left center seats.

Kiki Cuyler saved the Cubs for a while when he connected with a home run in the ninth.

The Cards left for home to open a two-game series with the Pirates. The box score:

Giants Put Their Hearts Into This Game

Are the Giants nervous before a ball game? Do they worry about the stuff the opposing pitcher might have? Are they afraid of possible injuries sliding or at the plate? No, they have no worries except who is going to get that queen of spades in their daily game of hearts that lasts until the bell brings them onto the field for practice. Here are some of them in the clubhouse handling the pastboards. Reading clockwise from Johnny Verzer, No. 7, are Joe Bowman, Mal Schmacher, hiding behind Joe, Carl Hubbell, Mel Ott, Joe Moore and Gus Mancuso.

GEHRINGER REAL SECOND SACKER

By Earl J. Hilligan
Associated Press Sports Writer

Detroit, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Charles Leonard Gehringer, just about as good a second baseman as baseball has produced in several years, isn't at all surprised that the Detroit Tigers have won their first American league pennant in 25 years.

Never given to making either long or rash statements, Gehringer said a month ago "we'll win that pennant because we have a good ball team." Today, he shies away from going much further, except to admit that he is getting quite a "kick" out of his chance to play in his first world series after 10 years with the Bengals.

"I'm not worried, and I know the rest of the boys aren't either," said the Giants' pitcher. "Charlie says deliberately and after much thought. 'We have a hard hitting, hustling club, and we've faced good pitching before this season.'"

"I knew at the start of the season we had a fine club and the best manager in baseball today, Mickey Cochrane. When we reached the top in July and stayed there, I was convinced we would come down in front." Gehringer, a "ball player's player" who is one of the most popular men in the league among the players, is the veteran of the Tigers. He signed with the club in 1924 and almost immediately earned a regular job at second. His sparkling play, year in and year out, has been the hub of the Tiger defense and offense, and Detroit fans are elated that he at last will get into a world series.

Gehringer is loath to admit, however, that the fact he is having his best year since entering the game has had very much to do with Detroit's showings. All season long he has waged a battle for the league's batting championship, and in the early part of the season, when teammates were in bad slumps, it was Gehringer who steadied them with his brilliant play.

Gehringer makes up in batting strength and fielding skill what he lacks in aggressiveness. When Stanley Harris came to Detroit as manager, someone asked him why he wasn't going to play second base.

"Because I have the finest second baseman in baseball out there now," Harris replied, "and Charlie's performance this year has been even better than in the years Harris headed the club."

"As Gehringer goes so go the Tigers," the fans have agreed for several years. Maybe that's why the Bengals are in the world series.

Three Local Prep Teams To be in Grid Wars Now

By Earl J. Hilligan
Associated Press Sports Writer

Illinois School for the Deaf will join the other two local prep teams in the grid wars this week when Coach S. Robert Burns leads his lighter and younger squad to Quincy for a game with the high school of that city. The Tigers knocked off work a bit early yesterday to welcome a large group of returning students, while both J. H. S. and Mount, victors in last week's battles, went to work straightening out kinks that showed up in the two games.

J. H. S. has its big battle with a re-entitled Beardstown eleven this week as its immediate goal, and Routh is getting ready for another tussle with a parochial team, meeting the Quincy academy under the lights at Illinois College this Friday night. The Crimson will carry their football army over to Beardstown for the game which is rated as being one of the toughest on the J. H. S. schedule.

Coach Burns, who has completed a week's work with his team, has found a much lighter team, one that he is inclined to denote with the "baby" sign in the deaf language, but he also has found that they are fast, that they are coordinating nicely, and that with the exception that the punts will be short and the passes not as long as formerly, the team is just about like every other Tiger team. Burns spent the week-end in Chicago, attempting to line-up a football game in the Windy City for his players and winding up a few details that he was unable to finish up during his summer vacation. Quincy defeated Pittsfield Friday night 36 to 6.

Walker Works On Second. At J. H. S., Coach Frank Walker found that all of his boys came through the industry game with very few bruises, and he immediately sent his first team to work on the blocking dummy and tackling dummy, under the care of his assistant, Glenn Hinkle, and then took charge of his reserves.

The reserves began learning a new shift, and it is probable that the regulars will get a look at it tonight. The shift will be used against Beardstown if it can be developed in time, and does not take too much time away from drill on other things, such as forward passing. The almost total failure of the J. H. S. aerial attack was causing the coach some worry, and the result of the Beardstown game at White Hall didn't go very far toward easing these thoughts.

The Crimson have marked up two consecutive victories over Beardstown on the gridiron. This year, however, of its better teams, and the Crimson are going to have an entirely different situation on their hands when they go over into Cass county Saturday afternoon.

Routh Players O. K. With the exception of a few bruises and tightened muscles, Routh's high players appeared to have come through their bruising battle with Trinity here Saturday night in good shape. One of the players, Red Longergan, was involved in an automobile accident over the week-end, and came out unscathed, and another, Al McGinnis, was in another crash, without getting injured.

Baptist was highly pleased with the Nine Rafts for Mexico!

Coached by John Kilcullen, former Yale star, the University of Mexico will send a football team to the United States this year to play a series of five games. The Mexican squad will face Union University, Jackson, Tenn., Sept. 29; Lamar College, Beaumont, Tex., Oct. 12; Louisiana College, Oct. 27; Birmingham Southern, Nov. 12; and Southwestern Louisiana Institute, Nov. 20. Above is Captain Cavallone, of the Mexican team with Coach Kilcullen.

MICKEY COCHRANE GETS LAST LAUGH

Detroit, Sept. 24.—(AP)—They laughed when Mickey Cochrane announced last winter that his Detroit Tigers were going to win the American league pennant.

He had just been acquired from Philadelphia in a $100,000 deal and the sceptics were unanimous in the belief that the Tigers would stay in the second division during his first season as manager.

Cochrane's revamped Tigers created somewhat of a flurry by their early season showing, but the scoffers breathed somewhat easier when July 4, the date that traditionally decides pennant races, passed with the New York Yankees leading the league by 20 points.

Today, however, the Tigers clinched the pennant and removal of the last mathematical possibility of failures supplied a climax to a season packed with drama.

Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe, Arkansas' gift to fandom, furnished much of that drama. After a shaky start, he suddenly became the pitching sensation of the league, gathering momentum with a string of consecutive victories that started June 15 and continued until he had tied the American league record of 16 straight.

In a meretricious finish, he singled in the ninth inning to drive home the run that beat Washington for his 16th successive victory on August 15. The Tigers had been trailing, 1 to 2, until Hank Greenberg got a home run to tie the count and set the stage for the Schoolboy's feat.

There was drama of a different kind four days later, when Philadelphia snapped Rowe's string with a crushing 13 to 5 defeat, and blasted his hopes of a record all its own.

All of that was quite a bit of glory for a young pitcher in his second season as a big leaguer, but he had other triumphs. On August 3, he pitched a one-hit game against Chicago, winning 1 to 0 although he left the game in the seventh inning. He was credited with winning games on successive days against Chicago, 11 to 1 on July 2 and 16 to 15 on July 20. He was a relief pitcher in the latter slugfest.

Greenberg, another youngster in his second year in the big time, was a close second in spectacular performances. Probably his most scintillating victory was on September 10, when he won two home runs, one in the ninth, produced all the rallies by which the Tigers beat Boston, 2 to 1.

Four days later, he got another homer in the ninth to tie the score and the Tigers finally won out in the twelfth, 6 to 4, on a home run by Charlie Gehringer.

Just as spectacular in another department was Jo-Jo White and his daring base running which included thefts of home and kicking the ball from the hands of opposing players.

Throughout the season, it was a two-team race between New York and Detroit. The Tigers leaped out in front at the start of the season, but New York took the lead briefly on April 25. Detroit's poorest month was May, with 15 victories against 14 defeats, but the Tigers always were either in the lead or within shooting distance of the league leadership.

June saw 20 wins against seven defeats, but New York was leading so badly either, and July 4 saw the Tigers trailing by a full game.

The Yankees came to Detroit July 12 with a 12-point lead. That probably was the series that decided the race, for Detroit won three games out of four, Rowe pitching two of the victories, and the Yanks left trailing by 15 points.

On July 27, New York again was back on top, but only by two points and Detroit wiped out that margin the next day.

The Tigers moved into New York for another "crucial" series August 14 leading by four and a half games. They beat the Yankees in a double-header the first day, Alvin Crowder and Rowe being the winning pitchers, and went on to take the series, three games to two.

From that time on, no one seriously doubted that Detroit would win its first pennant in 25 years and its fourth of all time.

And today the Tigers did it.

KAMP PITCHES AND KANE WINS

Carrollton, Ill., Sept. 24.—Carrollton Merchants baseball nine were defeated Sunday by Kane in the best game that has been played on the local diamond this season by a score of 5 to 0. Kamp, who has been pitching all season for Jacksonville, Texas, was the star.

For the St. Louis Browns, was in the box for Kane. He struck out 15 batters in 11 innings. The game went ten innings as the score was 0-0 in the last of the ninth. Kane scored 5 unearned runs in the 10th without getting a hit. The score:

Vanderbilt's Rainbow Wins Third Straight Yacht Race From Challenger Endeavour

By Edward J. Neil,
Associated Press Sports Writer

Newport, R. I., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Fleeing before the wind like a huge white gull, beating sturdily back as though she never had known a conqueror, Harold S. Vanderbilt's Rainbow trounced the British challenger Endeavour for the third straight time today and pushed the ancient America's cup farther than ever from the reach of T. O. M. Sopwith's straining fingers.

And so tonight the doughty Englishman, after winning two straight at the start, was farther away than ever from the goal of lifting the historic mug, Britain's unequaled dream from the day in 1851 when the yacht America sailed so fast around the Isle of Wight in winning it that Queen Victoria was sadly told "there was no second, your majesty."

By nightfall tomorrow, needing but one more victory in the best four out of seven series, Rainbow on the basis of her present form may well have wound up one of the most turbulent streaks the competition ever has known.

The amazing American defender, despite the loss of a parachute Spinnaker torn to pieces in a breeze that at times reached 20 knots out of the northeast, continued to upset all expert calculations by turning the highest winning margin so far, four minutes and one second, in weather supposedly made to order for the invader.

In fact it was the second official victory for the American in 24 hours, for only last night did the race committee in charge of the show throw out the protest Sopwith lodged after Rainbow had led his blue-hulled sloop home by one minute and 51 seconds Saturday.

There was no chance for protest to-day, as Endeavour, in difficulties shortly after the start when her mammoth spinnaker, nicknamed Annie Oakley because it punched full of holes like a free fight ticket, wrapped around the headstays and couldn't be untangled for fully five minutes.

When it was finally worked away, and did fill with the springy 14-knot wind that flicked white caps on the wave tops and drenched all hands with spray, Rainbow was 200 yards in front.

And that, it turned out, was the closest Endeavour was going to get at any time thereafter on the fifteen-mile run to the leeward mark and the beat back to the starting buoy, nine miles southeast of Brenton reef lighthouse.

Despite the valiant Annie Oakley that accounted in a large measure for Endeavour's first pair of victories, the Englishman gained but little even when Rainbow was coasting along, fighting the sail trouble.

Sopwith couldn't seem to keep his big punctured sail trim and full of wind in the gusty puffs that sent the big sloop scudding along at a terrific pace while Rainbow, previously a dead ringer in heavy weather but a fitting ghost in light airs, simply ate it up and pleaded for more blow.

The big white hope fairly blew through the first leg, and making the turn for home area the Vanderbilts' Yacht Winchester, subbing for the usual buoy because the tub that carries it broke down, shaved so close that startled observers said she was no more than six inches away from the stern. Far behind was the challenger, some 1,400 yards in distance at the turn, 4 minutes, 38 seconds, by the clock.

It was scarcely a contest as Vanderbilt, taking no chances, sped along the homeward fifteen miles up the bay, Greta Garbo Jib and Mainstay, keeping his weather berth all the time in case Sopwith by some chance got close, but never needing the precaution.

Frantically, the Englishman tacked to port and starboard, short tacks and long ones, but nothing he could do out Vanderbilt's mile lead to any great extent, as "Mike" casually went with him on every maneuver, conceding nothing.

Endeavour, through prolonging the elapsed time considerably on the best home by so many tacks, did pick up 37 seconds along the way but that was only a single puff when he needed a full-bodied gale. Vanderbilt came slanting down to the finish line, with the wind increased to 14 knots and still northeast by northeast by north, a trifle short of a mile ahead.

Rainbow's elapsed time was 3:54.06, and Endeavour's 3:58.06, considerably over the cup record Vigilant set at 3:24.39 back in 1893. Sopwith's slowing up tactics might have cost either boat a chance to shave Rainbow's record for the windward leg, 2:04.09, set last Tuesday.

Rookie Red Sox Hurler Holds Yankees to Four Scattered Hits and Boston Wins 5 to 0

New York, Sept. 24.—(P)—The Detroit Tigers today won the American League pennant for the first time in 25 years without swinging a bat or throwing a ball when the New York Yankees were mathematically counted out of the race as they closed their home season by dropping a 5 to 0 decision to the Boston Red Sox.

With only five games remaining on their schedule, the Yankees dropped six games back of the Tigers. Mickey Cochrane's men can lose all of their remaining five contests and still finish with a game to spare, even if the Yankees win all of their games. The Tigers were not scheduled to play today.

Johnny Merena, youthful right-hander from Syracuse who joined the Sox at the close of the International League, actually clinched the pennant for the Tigers. He allowed the Yankees only four scattered hits, two of them by Lou Gehrig. Only one Yankee got as far as third base and that was Gehrig, who singled in the fourth and advanced on Eddie Morgan's error and an infield out.

The Sox found Johnny Murphy easy in the early rounds, making four of their five runs in the first three innings. The former Fordham ace allowed only seven hits, but three errors, two by Red Rolfe and one by Selkirk, figured in the scoring. Rolfe's two mistakes came in the second inning when the Sox counted twice with the help of two bases on balls.

Babe Ruth, making his last appearance of the year at the stadium and probably his last as a regular, was forced to retire after his first time at bat because of a charley horse in his left leg. He had one putout in the outfield and walked in his only time at bat. Myril Hoag ran for him and then took over right field.

BIG TEN BRIEFS

Chicago, Sept. 24.—(P)—Coach Clark Shaughnessy sent the University of Chicago squad through a brief drill today, devoting the entire period to forward passes. Jay Berwanger, the number one Maroon back, picked out receivers cleverly and passed accurately. He also led the regulars on defense against aerial heaves.

Evanston, Ill., Sept. 24.—(P)—Northwestern's regulars were excused early today as Coach Dick Hanley and his assistants checked over the reserve material. The work at tackle of Park Way, Abe Epstein and Dewitt Gibson, all 200 pounders, impressed Hanley. Carl Devry and Frank Riley, a pair of sophomore guards, are giving the veterans, captain Al Kaul and Ed Whalen, a lot of competition.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 24.—(P)—The hopes of the University of Michigan for another strong entry in the Big Ten football campaign suffered a hard blow today with the announcement that Bill Renner, the senior quarterback from Youngstown, O., would be out of the game for five or six weeks with a fractured bone in his left ankle.

The loss of the ace signal caller resulted in a revamping today of what probably will be the first team. Russell Oliver will likely call signals and do the passing, with the running attack built around Howard Triplett, or Vincent Aug. Matt Patanelli, the big end from Elkhart, was shifted to the backfield today to work as a blocking back.

Minneapolis, Sept. 24.—(P)—Bernie Bierman drifted away from an established practice today by drilling Minnesota's gridgers for an hour in heavy rain and refused to take them indoors until all were drenched. Annoyed by weather conditions which have interrupted too much on the Gophers, Coach Bierman indicated he is doubtful about making his eleven step fast enough to suit demands before the schedule opens with North Dakota State Saturday.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 24.—(P)—A reserve eleven stopped the Purdue aerial game dead for a while today, but the Boilermaker varsity put on the pressure with its running attack and the defense cracked to permit Purvis and Carter to connect for long passes. Ed Skornonaki was a standout in the varsity line.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 24.—(P)—After the third day of drill behind closed doors, mostly on fundamentals, Coach Bo McMillin today announced his Indiana football squad will engage in an open scrimmage game tomorrow with freshmen elevens. The game was arranged to give students and fans a preview of the Hoosier tactics expected to be used against Ohio University Saturday.

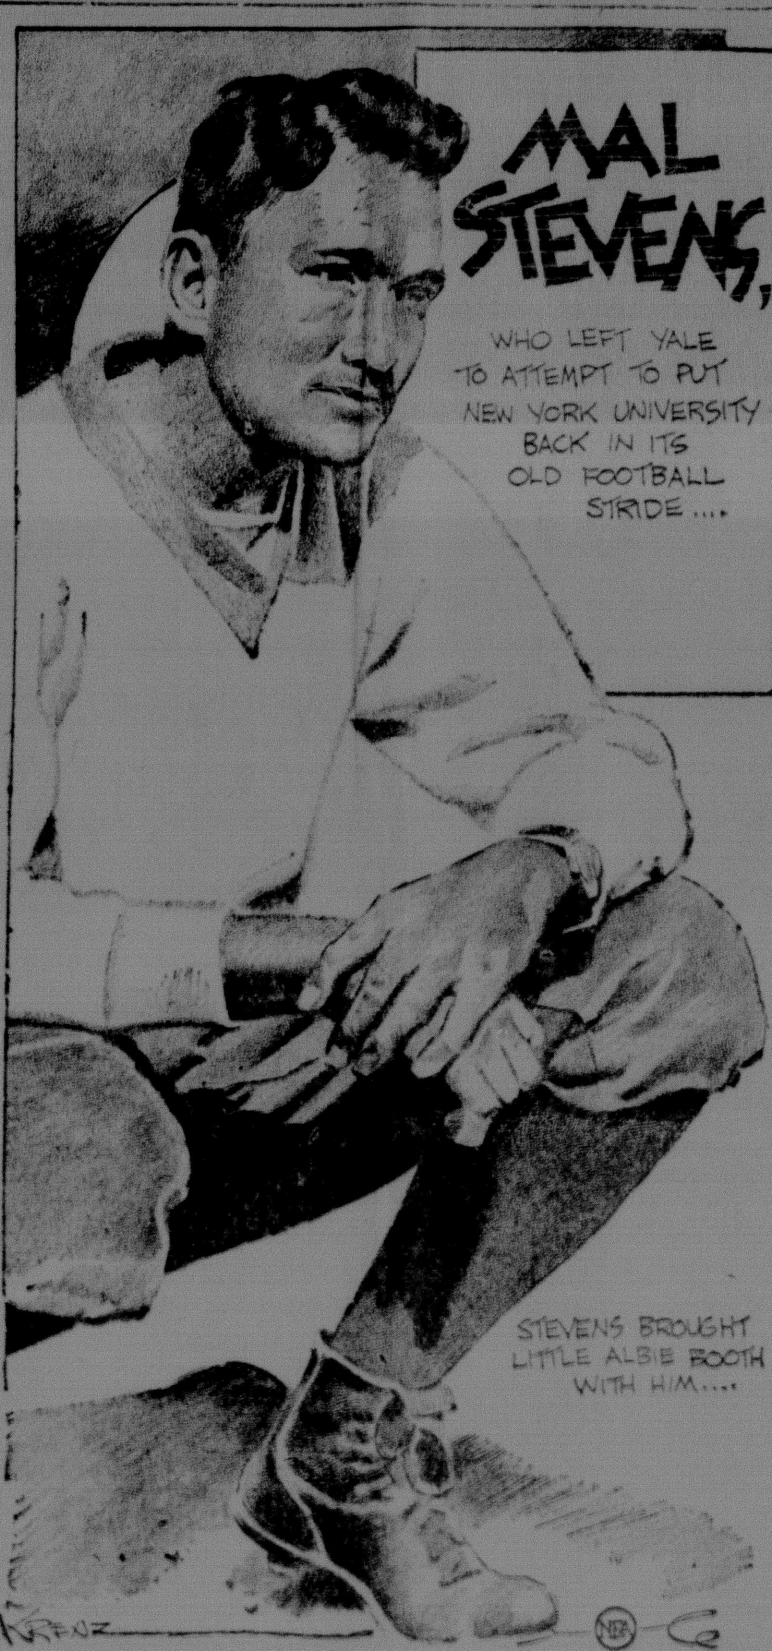

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 24.—(P)—While the reserves worked against the freshmen who used Bradley College formations today, Coach Bob Zupke took his Illinois regulars aside for an intensive drill on forward pass offense and defense. Frank Froeschauer and Les Lindberg, regular halfbacks, were given much attention, for Zupke plans to use both to help Jack Beynon with the throwing.

Iowa City, Sept. 24.—(P)—Passing and punting drill followed by a light dummy scrimmage inaugurated the second week of practice for the University of Iowa football squad today. With two exceptions all of the players injured last week had recuperated sufficiently to report to Coach Ossie Solem.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 24.—(P)—Plainly dissatisfied with the showing of the linemen on offense, Coach Clarence Spears today made wholesale changes in the forward wall of the University of Wisconsin squad. Except for some good running by Tom Fontaine, left halfback, and Eddie Janowski, sophomore fullback, the practice was devoid of the sparkle that has characterized most of the previous workouts.

Columbus, O., Sept. 24.—(P)—The weather summary, Coach Francis Schmidt allowed the Ohio State University grid squad to let down on its drive today. Most of the two practice sessions was given over to chatter, with a few demonstrations about the errors made in Saturday's scrimmage.

ANDRE & ANDRE

Jacksonville had its first taste of football last week-end and it was a thrill. There was one runaway and a second School-Boy Rowe.

Jacksonville high looked powerful, but Coach Frank Walker was somewhat disappointed. He did his best to keep the team from scoring so wildly, but the boys just got a taste of touchdowns, and possibly remembered a few of the times they had to look at the zero end of those long counts.

Walker's problem continues to be a backfield. He had his backs blocking last night to get them accustomed to mowing down opposition.

Route on the other hand, gave the folks what they wanted in tense situations, nerve tingling plays, sensational stuff, and good old staunch fighting hearts.

Just ask any of the boys on the Route team how they felt in the last minute of that game. They were scared, and scared stiff. They could see that three year record of being undefeated knocked in the head, but at the same time, most of the boys had presence of mind and did not get rattled. Truly a great exhibition of skill and control, because a slip would have meant a touchdown that would have spoiled the record, if not the season.

JOCKEY PETERS WINS 5 STRAIGHT

By Orle Robertson
Associated Press Sports Writer
New York, Sept. 24.—(P)—Dominating a racing program as few jockeys have in recent years, Maurice "Mose" Peters, 17-year old apprentice rider from the Dakotas, today brought home five consecutive winners and narrowly missed his sixth at Rockingham Park.

The blonde-headed rider has been in the big time less than a year. Among his winners were four favorites and one second choice while his second place horse was strongly backed.

Peters started his streak in the first race, winning the five-furlong event with A. E. Silver's Wild Pigeon, an even money favorite. He triumphed in the second with Happy Scot at 3 to 2, took the third with Bedight, a second choice paying $7.70 straight. In the featured fourth race for two-year-olds, Peters came home on Sand Could, the luke-warm choice at $8.30. He followed that by winning the fifth with Jetting, 8 to 5 choice, and just missed accounting for the sixth with My Kentucky, finishing behind on Sir, ridden by Teddy King.

R. T. Watts' Wise Ways, a three-year old son of Supreme carrying the light weight of 103 pounds, came within two-fifths of a second of equalling Equipoise's world's record for one mile when he stepped the distance in 1:34 4-5 for a new track mark.

DODGERS WALLOP PHILLIES TWICE

Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 24.—(P)—Brooklyn wound up its season against the Phillies by wallowing the visitors in both ends of a twin bill, 5 to 3 and 10 to 2.

The first game was a free hitting exhibition without neither A. Moore nor Munn's able to check the sluggers.

Behind the four-hit twirling of Walter Beck in the nightcap the Dodgers drove Snipe Hansen from the slab in the first inning and continued to bat heavily against Reggie Grabowski.

TENNIS PLAYERS RIDE TO MACOMB

Jacksonville high school tennis players took a ride up to Macomb yesterday, but when they got there they found that the district high school tennis tournament had been postponed again until Wednesday.

Coach J. M. Hollowell, who accompanied the team, returned to Jacksonville as soon as definite arrangements were made with the Macomb officials to notify this city when the tournament was to be held, and to notify them in time to get there for the matches.

Bob Hamm is the district singles champion, and is eager to defend his title. The district singles tournament must be completed by Thursday night in order to send that district's representatives to the state tournament to be held in Champaign this week-end.

PENNANT STANDING

By the Associated Press.
The New York Yankees hopes of winning the American League pennant died yesterday before the fourth pitching of young Johnny Merena of the Boston Red Sox. The setback left the Yankees six games back of the Detroit Tigers with only five games to play.

The Cardinals continued in pursuit of the Giants, reducing the world champions' lead to two games with a 3 to 0 decision over the Cubs. By winning all four of their remaining games, the Giants still would clinch the pennant regardless of what the Cards do in their six games. New York has two games each to play with the Phillies and the Dodgers, all at home, while the Cardinals meet the Pirates in a two-game series and wind up the season with four against the Reds, also at Sportsman's park.

PRACTICE BLOCKING
South Bend, Ind., Sept. 24.—(P)—Disgusted with the blocking of his team in Saturday's scrimmage, Coach Elmer Layden devoted the whole of Notre Dame's drill today to that department of the game.

Tom Conley and Bill Cerney, who scouted Texas Saturday, reported the Longhorns have plenty of power and will cause the Irish trouble in the opening game a week from Saturday.

TORONTO TO WINS
Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 24.—(P)—The Toronto Maple Leafs tonight defeated the Rochester Redwings, 2-1, in the fifth and deciding game of the International League final playoffs and gained the right to represent the league in the Little World series against the American Association champions.

WIN TITLE
San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 24.—(P)—The Galveston Buccaneers won the Texas league championship tonight by beating the San Antonio Missions in the sixth game of the play-off, 9 to 2. The Bucs, who had won three previous games, will play New Orleans in the Dixie series starting Wednesday at Galveston.

MINNEAPOLIS WINS
Columbus, O., Sept. 24.—(P)—Minneapolis forged to the front in the American Association playoff series here tonight, defeating Columbus 10-8 for its third consecutive victory. The Birds won the first two games. Four victories are required to win the flag.

Pleasant Hill took the lead in the Illinois Valley conference race last week-end when its football team, under the direction of its new coach, Bruno Bierman, defeated Greenfield in the opening game of the league 12 to 0. According to reports from Pleasant Hill, the Bierman machine showed power and speed, but appeared to be somewhat green.

This week's headliner apparently is scheduled for Pittsfield, where Carrollton's highly respected team will go for a game Friday night. Carrollton held Verde to a scoreless tie Saturday afternoon and Pittsfield took a 36 to 6 drubbing from Quincy last Friday.

NEW ORLEANS WINS
New Orleans, Sept. 24.—(P)—Denny Galehouse was put on the spot again today and came through. He shut out the Nashville Volunteers 2 to 0 with two hits to give the New Orleans Pelicans their second consecutive Southern Association pennant and the right to meet the Texas League champions in the Dixie series. Just as last year Denny pitched the Pelicans to the Southern flag, he was taxed with the job of winning the "rubber" game of the playoff series.

Chas. W. Potter Dies Monday Morning at Home West of City

Charles W. Potter, lifelong resident of Morgan and Scott counties, passed away at 8 o'clock Monday morning at his home on the Mound road west of this city.

He was from 1908 to 1914 a citizen of Jacksonville, residing on West Lafayette avenue. He was an active member of Centenary M. E. church, and was converted early in life.

Mr. Potter was born in Scott county May 4, 1859, a son of Henry and Mary Elliott Potter. He was married Dec. 22, 1880 to Miss Catherine A. Fellows. To this union ten children were born, one of whom Flora, the oldest daughter, died in infancy. The following children survive:

Mrs. Grace Ransom, Mrs. Sarah Ransom, Mrs. Laura Sturdy and Mrs. Cora Litter, all of Jacksonville and vicinity; Albert L. and H. Yates Potter of Lynville; Mrs. Lela Herring and Mrs. Fern Reid, both of Scott county, and Mrs. Evanda Ransom of Meredosia. He leaves also fourteen grandchildren.

Mr. Potter was the last survivor of a family of eleven children, of whom the following preceded him in death: James Potter, Mrs. Elizabeth Hart, Mrs. Anna Marshall, John Potter, Mrs. Martha Schofield, William Potter, Thomas Potter, Mrs. Ruth Bentley Gilbert and Edward Potter.

Mr. Potter always followed the occupation of farming. Since 1927 he has resided at the home on the Mound road, where his death occurred. He was well known throughout the west part of the county. He was a member of the Masonic lodge at Lynville.

The remains were removed to the Williamson Funeral Home. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Centenary M. E. church in charge of Rev. Frank McCarthy.

City Council Moves To Rehabilitate Power Plant at Monday Meeting

The council that with the approval of the fire committee, he had authorized the purchase of a second-hand Cadillac automobile from Billy Ricks, for $75, and that the machine was now being painted, and having new tires put on, at a cost estimated at $50 additional. The council considered the move wise, complimenting the mayor on his selection of an automobile and the price paid for it. The mayor stated that it was in good mechanical condition, and was powerful enough to hook onto a ladder wagon and move it from place to place if the need arose.

Charles DeSilva, president, and Ernest Savage, secretary, of the park board, appeared before the council with a request that the city reduce the water bill this year, in view of the fact that a large amount of the water had been turned back into the lake, and that the parks were being put to a heavy expense in repairing damage done to trees and shrubbery by the storms and drought of the past summer.

The council voted to request the park board to pay the actual cost of pumping the water to the park, and appointed George Stoldt to determine the cost.

Alderman Day pointed out that the park system has installed toilets which use water at Nichols park and at the ball diamond, stating that the board should be complimented for this forward step. Alderman Williamson, in discussing the proposed reduction of the water bill, stated that in the past the park board has been able to pay its water bill, and that only during the past two years has it been necessary to reduce their bills.

He declared that the park should operate within its income, and then concluded by saying that during the emergency he believed the city should take into cognizance the troubles facing the board. The mayor pointed out that free water was furnished to the directors of the Morgan County Fair. The vote on requesting the park to pay the actual pumping charge was unanimous.

A fund of $13.90, representing a dividend from a fund of $139 in the Ayers National bank, was ordered turned over to the park fund by the council. The fund was originally a gift from Ellen Ramsey, and was to be used in keeping up Central park. The bequest was $100 and had accumulated $90 in interest during the time it was in the bank.

Alderman Williamson reported that the city ordinance regarding posting signs on the boulevard light posts around the square had been violated, pointing out that Routt College had set up posters at several places. This report was also turned over to Alderman Green to act with the police department in stopping this practice.

Alderman Williamson reported that the city ordinance regarding posting signs on the boulevard light posts around the square had been violated, pointing out that Routt College had set up posters at several places. This report was also turned over to Alderman Green to act with the police department in stopping this practice.

Attorney Foreman, in reporting on a letter sent the council by J. C. Colton, stated that the matter had been before the council a year ago, and that at that time it was suggested that Colton and M. B. Havenhill get together and agree on a split of the special assessment against property recorded in the city files as being owned by Colton. This was not done, the city attorney said he discovered when Colton wrote a letter to the council protesting the amount levied against his property. He said he had made arrangements to meet the two men in his office to attempt to work out a satisfactory split in the special assessment.

A question of book-keeping took some time, when Alderman Williamson brought up what was to be done with insurance settlements made on damages to city owned property. He pointed out that repairs to these properties were paid out of funds budgeted for the upkeep of these places, but that it was not possible, legally, to put the insurance settlements in these funds, in view of the fact that it would increase the amount budgeted, which is contrary to law. It was decided to put the money in a general fund, and then if some way could be worked out, to transfer it to the proper funds.

Proposes Cistern

A proposal to build a deep cistern out of the bricks salvaged from North Main street when it is torn up for repaving operations, was announced by Alderman Warwick after the notice to contractors that the city was ready to receive bids on the project, had been read. Alderman Devlin suggested that as many of the bricks as possible be salvaged. The cistern is to be built near the Daub Wells. Alderman Warwick said.

The denouement of the differences between the city and state highway departments over the resurfacing of South Clay avenue, and the construction of a detour, was put into the records when a letter from Charles M. Slaymaker, District No. 6 engineer, notified the council that his department was allowing $1,866.97 of a claim of $2,951.96 for the resurfacing job, was paying the city $958.96 for oiling and labor on the detour, and refunding 60 percent of the freight charges, amounting to $276.86, and returning bills not allowed amounting to $6,301.24. Alderman Williamson said that the city would have to pay out about $3000 more before the South Clay project was cleaned up.

City Clerk John R. Phillips read a notification received by his office that the city had been credited with $1,694.85 as its share of the motor fuel tax for August. He also presented a report from the state department of health to the effect that the city water was safe for drinking Sept. 17.

when the state department last made a test.

A letter, urging the city to send its water superintendent to a state meeting in Springfield, Sept. 25-26, also was read. Dr. Frank Jirka, head of the state department, is sponsoring the meeting for persons connected with municipal water departments.

The treasurer's report for the month of August, showing among other things a balance of more than $20,000 on hand in the general fund, was presented, and placed on file. The health report, which tabulated 44 deaths and 35 births during the month of August, also was placed on file.

Granting John E. Wilson the right to remove himself as a bondsman for Coffman and Wilson, operators of a beer parlor on North Sandy street, the liquor control commission at a meeting held last night ordered the place closed and the license taken up until such time as the holders of the license are able to provide acceptable bonds.

John Wilson is the father of the Wilson member of the firm.

Recommending the granting of a license to John Cantaneri, to sell hard liquors at his place on West Morgan street, the chairman of the commission, W. A. Wainright, said he would investigate the report that the operator was employing barmaids in violation of the city ordinance.

Grim Triple Murder in Pine Barrens of New Jersey Exposed

Mt. Holly, N. J.—(P)—A shotgun ambush blasted out the lives of three men in southern New Jersey's pine barrens.

Their bodies were found yesterday, lying face up beside a small motor car 11 miles southeast of Mt. Holly, and police theorized they were moved down by unseen killers as they stepped from their machine after being lured to the lonely spot.

The victims of what police described as a mass gang murder, were identified as Stanley Zimmer, 23; William Schwarz, 22, and Edward Riehl, 21, all of Easton, Pa.

Investigations were begun immediately in this area, in Philadelphia and in Easton. Police at the latter city said a suspect has been taken into custody.

Carefully Planned

Investigation at the scene showed how completely the killers had planned the crime.

"The slayer had the spot all mapped out," said Ellis Parker, veteran Burlington county detective who is leading the investigating forces. "I found marks around on the trees indicating the place had been 'blazed'. One tree, a small pine, had been freshly stripped of its limbs."

He called the slays "the most brutal and vengeful murders I have ever seen," he added.

"These fellows came here to meet some other mobsters, possibly to split some loot or make plans for another job."

Mute evidence of the thoroughness of the killers was found in several empty shotgun cartridges and pistol shells, apparently from the slayers' weapons.

Police say they believe the victims were slain as early as last Wednesday. So secluded was the spot that the crime was not discovered until a farmer stumbled on the bloody scene yesterday.

Zimmer, police state, was the owner and driver of the car. He was identified through records he had made at home while studying fingerprinting. Schwarz had a police record in Pennsylvania.

BOND WITHDRAWN; BEER PARLOR IS ORDERED CLOSED

Recommending the granting of a license to John Cantaneri, to sell hard liquors at his place on West Morgan street, the chairman of the commission, W. A. Wainright, said he would investigate the report that the operator was employing barmaids in violation of the city ordinance.

Consumer Demand is Rapidly Increasing

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER

New York—(P)—The consumer is demanding more goods, and seems to have cash to pay for them.

This insistent demand for merchandise has developed in the past several weeks to confound business pessimists who had been spreading deepest gloom as industrial production, freight movement, electric power output, and residential building dipped well below the levels of a year ago.

The fact that department store sales in August topped August of 1933, when sales were artificially stimulated by the last year's summer boom in industry, resulting from sharp unusual developments as sharp depreciation of the dollar, and mounting costs of the codes, has been a pleasant surprise.

Sales of merchandise this year, although tapering off in the late spring, have held persistently above 1933.

Reports to Dun and Bradstreet indicate that sales in many areas are running well in excess of 6 per cent over last year, so a real improvement in actual physical volume seems indicated.

"There is in the far west," the mountain states and in the farm belt so pronounced an undercurrent of sentiment for President Roosevelt that if anything we should gain seats in the congress in that territory," the Democratic generalissimo said.

FLY FREE DATE OCTOBER 2 THIS YEAR IS REPORT

The fly free date for sowing wheat in Morgan county is October 2 or later this year, it was announced at the local Farm Bureau offices. Farmers are urged not to sow wheat until on or after that date in order to keep damage to wheat crops next year at a minimum.

Until October 2 the old flies will lay eggs in the growing wheat. The damage will be serious where the grain is sowed too early.

Next Congress Will Have 80 New Faces; Turnover is Record

BY CECIL B. DICKSON

Washington—(P)—The turnover in congress seats is proving terrific. Four score new faces are assured for the Seventy-fourth congress, meeting in January, regardless of whether the political complexion of the Senate and House is altered by the November elections.

Already a record has been set in the turnover. Names that long have been on the congressional rolls have been wiped off by defeats in primaries, voluntary retirements, aspirations for other offices, and deaths.

Many are Defeated

At least sixty-nine House seats and five senatorships in the present congress will be filled by new men in January. Further, six out of fourteen representatives aspiring for Senate seats were nominated. Contests with five sitting senators are being waged and casualties on one side or the other are certain. However, three House members who failed to gain Senate nominations are running again for their old seats.

Five senators on their way out are: Stephens (D. Miss.) and Erickson (D. Mont.) who were defeated in the primaries; Goldsborough (R. Md.) who ran for governor, and Dill (D. Wash.) and Thompson (D. Neb.) who are retiring voluntarily.

Twenty-seven representatives, twenty-two of them Democratic and five Republican, failed to win re-nomination, or election.

(One Democrat and one Republican incumbent were defeated in the Maine election.)

Seventeen representatives—six Republicans, including Representative Beck of Pennsylvania, and eleven Democrats—are retiring voluntarily. Of the others, two were renominated for governor, two defeated for governorships, four, including Speaker Henry T. Rainey (D. Ill.) have died, and the remainder have accepted or are going to accept government appointments.

FARLEY THINKS RISE IN BUSINESS AUGURS WELL FOR NEW DEAL

Chicago—(P)—Postmaster General James A. Farley says he believes that rising postal receipts and business indicate a recovery well for the new deal.

Stopping in Chicago enroute to attend the New York state Democratic convention after a brief trip through western states, the general predicted yesterday "the greatest and most impressive congressional and sensational victories" for the Democratic party at the polls in November.

"The people of this country are satisfied that the Roosevelt administration has effected an important advance in their economic status," Farley said. "and every current business index that I have seen in the last ten days shows an upward tendency."

"There is in the far west," the mountain states and in the farm belt so pronounced an undercurrent of sentiment for President Roosevelt that if anything we should gain seats in the congress in that territory," the Democratic generalissimo said.

DR. COVERT TO BE SPEAKER IN CITY SUNDAY

Building General Secretary of Presbyterian Board to Visit Churches

Dr. William Chalmers Covert, regional general secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education, and 1934 moderator of the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A., will be a speaker in Jacksonville next Sunday. Dr. Covert is coming here at the invitation of the Elders Association of which Clarence Rice is chairman. He will leave Philadelphia next Thursday and arrive here Saturday. Following his appearance in the Presbyterian churches here Sunday he will go to Superior, Neb., where he will preside at a synod.

Dr. Covert will speak at Westminster church Sunday morning, and at the State Street church there will be a basket dinner arranged in his honor and in the evening he will speak at a popular service at Northminster church.

Dr. Covert was born on a farm in a Presbyterian settlement in Indiana, established by his grandfather and four brothers and other sons of pioneers who came west with Daniel Boone from the Holland Dutch regions of New Jersey.

This rural Indiana church has sent 26 men into the ministry. Dr. Covert began the sixteenth. He prepared for college in the Hopewell Academy established by the old country church and reported to the Board of Christian Education in Philadelphia as early as 1840. Graduating from Hanover, a Presbyterian college on the Ohio River, he went to McCormick Seminary.

Trained under the care of the Presbytery of Indianapolis, he began his Christian work in northern Michigan. Upon asking Gen. R. N. Adams, superintendent of Home Missions for Minnesota, for "the hardest field in the state," he was ordained at 23 by the Presbytery of St. Paul. Dr. David James Burrell being the Moderator and chairman of the Committee of Examination.

He organized his first church on a man's foundation in an industrial suburb of St. Paul which was without church or pastoral care of any kind. After three years he re-settled in the same place, but in a new church, and organized a new church at Minneapolis at Meridian, St. Paul and Minneapolis at Meridian.

He was the youngest Moderator of the Synod of Minnesota ever held. He popularized the history of pioneer Presbyterianism in the Northwest, especially Indian work and early white settlement, by an illustrated story that still circulates after 35 years. He raised the debt on Meridian Park Church and in the nineties promoted Home Missionary work by frequent tours through the churches of the East under the Home Board, delivering the first illustrated lecture on the work of the American Presbyterian Church before the General Assembly in the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York, in 1902.

Going to Chicago early in 1905 on a unanimous call, he helped to clear a large debt from the Forty-first Street Presbyterian Church. One of the largest Sunday Schools in Chicago was gathered and the largest Home Department in the state was organized.

President of Board. Dr. Covert was president of the Church Extension Board for many years. He was one of the managers of the Presbyterian Hospital, at the time the largest private hospital in the country with 500 beds. He was a member of the Board of Trustees of McCormick Theological Seminary since 1902. He was on the staff of the Continental and was one of the founders of the Chicago College of Christian Education, maintained in the Parish House of his church for several years. He was president of the Starratt School for Girls for 15 years, and was special lecturer in the Department of Homiletics in McCormick Seminary.

Literberry

Literberry, Sept. 24.—The October meeting of the Ladies Aid society of the Baptist church will be held Thursday afternoon at the church. The hostesses are Mrs. Frank Edwards and Mrs. Talbot Meadows. The meeting has been set up one week because of the Baptist association convention Tuesday, October 2.

Mrs. John Guy left Saturday evening by bus for Detroit, Michigan, to visit her brother, Claude Murray and family.

Mrs. Charlie Decker has returned home after spending the summer with her grandmother. Mrs. Jane McFarland of Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Dunlap and son Russell were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dunlap in Jacksonville Sunday.

James McDonald, Charles McDonald, Mrs. Ruth Rexroat and son, Carol Dean of Jacksonville and H. D. Crum spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Crum.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Beavers and family and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beavers of Philadelphia were Sunday afternoon callers in this community.

Mrs. J. N. Daniels is confined to her home by illness.

ASSUMES DUTIES AS POSTMASTER AT WINCHESTER

J. R. King Takes Office; Other News From Winchester And Vicinity

Winchester, Sept. 24.—J. R. King assumed the duties of postmaster for the city of Winchester this morning. Mr. King's appointment to the position was upon the recommendation of Senator William Delterich and Senator J. Hamilton Lewis. Mr. King is a Democrat of long standing in the county where he has served for three terms as county clerk, one term as deputy county clerk and one term as assessor and treasurer. His appointment made it necessary for him to resign as justice of peace for East Winchester precinct and as probation officer for Scott county which he held by the appointment of T. J. Priest, county judge. Postmaster King has retained George Cochran as assistant in the office. Mr. Cochran has been employed by the postoffice for a period of 30 years. Miss Katherine Lyons will be the other assistant to the postmaster.

News Notes.
Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Peak returned yesterday from Nashville, Tenn., where Mr. Peak has been showing the horses from the Milky Way Farm.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Walker and Roy Spaulding, Mrs. Walker's brother, departed Saturday for Kentucky where they were to visit Mrs. Walker's parents.

Miss Doris Green and Miss Julia Edmondson, who are attending Western State Teachers' College in Macon, visited their parents here over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rogers and family of Pekin visited Mrs. Rogers' parents here over the week end.

MRS. MARKILLIE WEDS SUNDAY IN SPRINGFIELD
Mrs. Beatrice Markillie of Springfield, formerly of this city and Robert Livingston of Springfield, were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church in Springfield. Rev. John T. Thomas performed the ceremony.

They were attended by Miss Mary A. Campbell and Thomas Cox.

The bride wore a dark green tulle suit with brown accessories, a brown satin blouse and a transparent brown velvet turban. She had a shoulder corsage of tea roses.

Miss Campbell was attired in a black dress and coat with a cross fox collar and black accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of gladioli and pink roses.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Joseph Hubbell, 1017 South Seventh street.

Mr. Livingston has been employed as staff pianist at radio station W. T. A. X. for the last year. Mr. Livingston is a court reporter.

Mr. and Mrs. Livingston left for a trip to Chicago. They will make their home at 903 South Fourth street, Springfield.

HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARY IS MADE LARGER

Improvement to Provide More Space For Student Use

In accordance with a plan that has been considered for the past several years, the Jacksonville High School library has been enlarged by almost twice its former size. This was accomplished by putting two doors between the library room and the old emergency room. These were separated by a solid partition. All of the steel cases will be moved into this room, leaving space for six additional tables in the library proper. This will accommodate 36 more people making a capacity of 84. Students using the library will not be allowed to go back to the cases, but will be served by trained student assistants under the direction of Miss Lillian H. Havenhill, chief librarian. In this way much confusion will be avoided.

Under the new arrangement there will be room for some new cases for a new group of books that have been purchased by the school.

The limited accommodations of the library have created a problem at the local school for some time. It was usually overcrowded. However, after the alterations have been completed, it is thought that the library will serve the needs of the students adequately.

It is still to be used as a reference library and not as a reading room.

City Council Moves To Rehabilitate Power Plant at Monday Meeting

A resolution providing for the rehabilitation of the Jacksonville city power plant, and for the installation of new equipment said to consist of Deisel engines, passed by the city council at its regular meeting in the council chambers last night by an almost unanimous vote, the approval of a policeman suggested for confirmation by Mayor W. A. Wainwright, and announcement that the city's project to take some care of the trees damaged in the storm of July 10 did not appeal to workers on the Illinois Emergency Relief rolls shared the spotlight of a session filled with deliberation and suggestions of plans for bettering the city.

The resolution for the rehabilitation of the present power plant was introduced by Alderman Robert Weaver, and was said by him to contemplate a plant only large enough to supply the city with power for street lights and for operation of city electrical equipment. It was introduced to supplant a resolution passed by the council asking a loan of $500,000 from the Public Works Administration for municipal power plant. There was little discussion on the resolution, the council accepting it with a few minor changes regarding the engineers to be retained to make plans for the project.

The resolution set out that the present plant was obsolete and badly in need of extensive repair, and stated that the project was to be paid for out of the "net revenue arising from the operation of said plant." Alderman Weaver, speaking on the resolution, stated that he was positive private financial aid could be secured and that the time for paying for the work could be extended over a 20 year period.

The firm of Warren and Van Praag, of Decatur, who prepared the initial plans submitted with the city's application for a light plant to the Public Works Administration, was authorized to prepare preliminary plans for the work, provided some successful financial terms could be reached with the council.

Special Meeting Thursday
Mayor W. A. Wainwright, who presided over the meeting, stated that he would issue a call for a special meeting for Thursday night of this week at which time he hoped to have one of the members of that firm here to discuss financial arrangements with the council.

Roll call on the motion to accept the resolution brought affirmative votes from all but Alderman Harlan Williamson, who stated, for the second time during the voting, that he was not casting a ballot.

Discussing the city's efforts to repair the damage done to trees through a work relief project, with the I. E. R. C. supplying the labor, Alderman Williamson reported that it has been almost impossible to secure a crew of men to work. Several men have been assigned to the project thus far, he said, but after careful training, these men, with the exception of four, have not appeared for a second day in the trees.

The superintendents in charge of the project surveyed the city, and selected the corner of Morton avenue and Church street to begin operations. Williamson reported, six or seven men were assigned to the superintending for training and one of the group only one man reported for work. This went on several days, he said, and each time a new group arrived, only one or two, and sometimes none, of the men would remain on the job. A total of 23 men have been sent out thus far, he said, and only four men have remained on the job.

The relief commission raised the wages of the men who were accepted from this work from 35c to 50c an hour, Williamson reported, but still none of the men sent came to work in the trees. Men who appeared to work well one day, failed to return for a second day, he said, reporting that they were dizzy. Practically a tree man who was sent up in a tree, equipped with all of the safety devices used by tree men, came down with the same report.

The city would be unable to get very far with a crew of only four men, he said, adding that the outlook for city action to save the trees appears to be far from promising. He pointed out that it was peculiar that so many of the men were subjected to dizzy spells while in the trees.

Alderman J. Day, in comment on the tree situation, stated that several of the men had told him they would not work in the trees. Mayor Wainwright told the council it would be best to wait another week to see what developed, and then attempt some other plan, if this did not prove to be successful. Williamson closed the remarks by stating that "We are going to have to throw up our hands if this fails."

Favors Projects.

Despite the failure of the city to obtain tree workers, the council went on record as favoring two other projects on which relief workers could be placed. One was paving North Sandy street from Douglas to Lafayette with the city, Morgan Dairy and Andrews of the paving, estimated to be about $700. The council also acted favorably toward establishing a new fire hydrant near the Andrews Lumber company, the hydrant to be used as a place for testing pumps on fire fighting equipment. Sufficient pipe is on hand for the project, the mayor told the council, and Fire Chief Litter explained that the new outlet was necessary because while the department was testing apparatus, several heavy water users in the vicinity of the city hall were deprived of sufficient pressure.

The council also was notified that the Gladstone avenue sewer project had been approved by the relief commission. Another project, suggested by Alderman T. H. Warwick, chairman of the highway committee, for putting in a 36 inch tile along North Main street from Walnut north to the outlet, was accepted by the council in view of the fact that the North Main street pavement is soon to be turned up and replaced with a new concrete slab. The council authorized publication of a notice for bids on the job last night. The improvement will cost about $370 for tile, and whatever is necessary for labor. It was said that a previous contract called for a 36 inch tile, but that the tile was not put down.

Carl "Little Dutch" Reuter, who resides in the first ward, was approved by the council to fill the vacancy on the police force, a vacancy which has caused considerable strife in the council. Reuter was approved by a vote of five in favor of confirmation, a "not voting" ballot cast by Alderman Roy Conlee, and a "nay" vote by Alderman Williamson. Alderman Ralph Cogswell was absent. Reuter will take the position vacated by the appointment of Everett Mann to the night captaincy.

Plan Rock Pile
Establishment of a rockpile, or workhouse, in which transients and local citizens who run afoul the law, will be required to work, took another step forward when the council, acting on a report submitted by Alderman Ralph Cogswell and the mayor, appointed the police committee and the mayor or to act with the county commissioners in setting up a place for working the men.

Alderman Green submitted the first part of the report, stating that he waited on the county commissioners, and obtained their permission to carry word back to the city council that the commissioners were ready to go ahead on a 50 per cent of the cost basis, the city to pay the other half. It was estimated that it would cost about $150 to build a wire fence, eight feet high around the rock pile.

The mayor continued with the report, pointing out the good that has been done this far through using finger prints for the identification of persons, and informed the council that the county commissioners were ready to pay their half of the cost of purchasing finger printing and photographing equipment, estimated at $285 for the outfit. The council decided to wait while before authorizing the city to spend its half of money toward securing the outfit.

Continuing their assault on questions that heretofore have found the members at odds, Alderman Warwick again introduced his request for a new truck for the highway department, bringing from Alderman Williamson the declaration:

"This truck proposition has got into a lot of horseplay. It seems there are certain persons in the department who thought the present truck was too heavy and that they wanted a truck. I had a mechanic look over the old truck and it is far from ready for the junk heap. When this thing got started other persons outside the council got interested. I'm not in favor of this horseplay."

The outcome of the debate over whether to purchase a new truck was that the city clerk was instructed to notify all of the truck dealers in the city to bid for the sale of a 1½ ton dump truck, the bids to be for both hydraulic and hand shift dumps. Alderman Warwick brought the purchase of the truck before the council by moving that a truck be purchased from C. M. Strawn for $700 and the old truck and Alderman Weaver seconded.

Discuss Purchases
City Attorney Orville Foreman was called upon for a report on his findings relative to the authority commissioners had in making purchases and entered into a legal discussion of the point at issue. He said it was his opinion that a truck would be considered supplies, and that no committee, under a state statute had the authority to purchase supplies totalling more than $100 without advertising for bids. However, he continued, it would be possible by a two-thirds vote of the elected membership, to do away with advertising for bids.

The mayor called for a vote on the proposal, and all of the aldermen, except Conlee and Devin, voted to purchase the truck. Williamson casting his "not voting" ballot. The count stood 4 to 2 to purchase the truck, but the motion was lost because of the failure to muster two-thirds of the eight elected aldermen in favor of the purchase. Conlee explained his negative vote by stating that although C. M. Strawn was a personal friend of his, Mr. Strawn did not reside in Jacksonville. Conlee also said he wanted the local truck dealers to have an opportunity to bid on the sale.

Discussion followed then as to what course to pursue. Alderman Warwick favored advertising for bids, declaring that the department needed a truck, bringing about Williamson's denial that the truck now in use was unfit for repair. It was recalled that the chairman of the highway committee decided to purchase a new truck when it was found that repairs to the truck now in use would cost about $150. Asked what was wrong with the present truck, Alderman Warwick said that it was using oil heavily, and Alderman Green recalled that the rear end had been taken apart once, that the clutch was not working properly, that the lift had not been satisfactory, and that several times it has been necessary to use the city tractor to get the truck started.

Add New Auto
Mayor Wainwright told the council that a new automobile had been added to the police department to do the work of the old one. The old car, which was of the trouble that has been prevalent in the past, he said, was alleged to have taken a bicycle belonging to Andrew Davis

BEGIN LAYING PAVEMENT IN SCOTT COUNTY

Nearly 200 Men Assigned to Paving Project—
News Notes

Winchester, Sept. 24.—The State Highway Department commenced laying the concrete slab on the Winchester-Alsey route at noon today. This event has long been awaited on the part of the large number of people from Winchester and the northwest who have taken advantage of the cut-off between Winchester and Manchester. There have been 192 men assigned to the paving project by Stanley E. Day, manager of the Reemployment Office for Scott county. Two shifts of men, each working five hours a day, will be employed on the road work.

Paving was commenced at noon today at the crossing just east of James Doyle's farm and the paver will work its way toward Winchester. William Busse is the Road Superintendent and has charge of the paving work. The work is being done by the Day Labor Force of the State Highway Department under the direction of H. B. Jay, General Superintendent of this division of the department.

In addition to the men employed on the paving work there are according to figures issued by Mr. Day, about 20 men at work on the improvement to the waterworks system of the City of Winchester, and 10 men employed on the third P. W. A. project in the county, the addition to the Alsey School building.

The contract for Alsey school was awarded Frank Oris and Arthur Mitchell, and calls for a $13,000.00 addition to the building which will provide a gymnasium and added classroom facilities. Oris and Mitchell, contractors, reside in Alsey.
